

Graham Curtin

A Professional Association

Jane M. Coviello, Esq., Of Counsel

About:

Graham Curtin is a mid-sized Morristown law firm offering expertise in such areas of legal practice as litigation; corporate and business transactions; intellectual property; labor and employment; commercial real estate; tax; and trusts and estates.

I provide:

- Representation in business transactions, including those with intellectual property and/or technology-related components, licensing (e.g., software, technology, data, trademarks, etc.), "cloud" service agreements, and software and website development
- Counsel and advice on e-commerce geared to the business model at issue, including privacy and data security compliance and treatment of trademarks and copyrighted materials
- General business contracts drafting and negotiation
- Counsel on website privacy policies and terms of use to assure compliance with FTC regulations
- Trademark registration counseling and applications
- Counsel in connection with the adoption, implementation and "meaningful use" of Electronic Health Records technology

I'd like to speak with:

- Business Owners and professionals
- Small and mid-sized companies
- Technology Executives
- Compliance Officers and/or Operations Managers (in the area of privacy and/or data security)
- Any person or entity with questions about trademarks or legal issues pertaining to website operation

Situations where I can help:

- Businesses, start-ups or professionals developing or updating a website
- Businesses or professionals thinking about licensing software, contracting for the development of customized software, or considering a "cloud computing" solution
- Any person or entity seeking advice about trademark enforcement, use or registration
