

Guidelines for submitting a blog to the Chamber website

The Morris County Chamber of Commerce is now accepting articles from members to post as blogs on the Chamber's website. These should contain useful information relevant to your industry and might solve a problem member companies may be having or alert members to and describe a new trend. While you will get by-line credit for writing the article, these are not intended to be a sales pitch. All articles must be approved by the Chamber staff before they are posted to the website.

These thought leadership pieces are included in your membership with the Chamber. The blog can also be included in our newsletter to be sent to the members and prospects for an additional fee. Learn more about sponsorship opportunities on the website <https://www.morrischamber.org/brand-building.html>

You may also include an updated headshot of yourself. Please indicate the topic or headline that you recommend we use. Depending on the number of submissions, we reserve the right to schedule articles for later postings.

The web-based submission form is found at <https://www.morrischamber.org/submit-a-blog.html> Please direct any questions to Colette Moran at colette@morrischamber.org
